

Easier Home Financing Is Here!

"There is more money available for loans than there are acceptable demands for it," Richard A. Foster, Executive Vice President at Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association says, following his return from a management conference for savings and loan associations of Twenty Million and under.

It appears we have a fluid monetary system, subject to the manipulations of the financial "Big Brigs." There isn't any more money now than before, the association of "old tight fists" just got together and said, "Maybe-so" we'd better let the boys have some more at a reasonable interest rate."

This easing money market is ostensibly to relieve the "recession." FHA and VA have money available with small down payments for the big investors and lenders.

BG Jaycees Hear
Floyd Miller At
Thursday Meeting

Newly appointed Belle Glade Memorial Hospital Superintendent Floyd Miller, Jr., was guest speaker at last night's Belle Glade Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Municipal Country Club.

Miller's principal objective was to tell the club members of the problems now facing the institution and to initiate a building fund drive.

Reported on the results of a 1957 survey team letter of Nov. 25, 1957 which referred to a number of discrepancies at the hospital.

The reason for the inspection was to determine whether the hospital was to receive a license under the Hospital Licensure Law.

A report written by Dr. L. P. Parks, M. D., was written Dec. 20, 1957 containing favorable comments regarding the hospital and also the discrepancies which they felt should be corrected before a re-inspection by the survey team sometime next summer.

It should be pointed out, Miller stressed, that discrepancies are found at all hospitals which are surveyed.

"Some of the items can be corrected without substantial changes to the present hospital facilities," Miller said. "Some other can only be accomplished through a tremendous expenditure of money which at this time cannot be undertaken."

The money is not available, at this time, to produce the correction of some of the minor discrepancies and still maintain the hospital at its present operational level," he told the Jaycees.

Miller told the group that he wanted to solicit the aid and support of the people in the district to make a contribution to help the hospital.

"I am sure that the financial resources to correct the minor deficiencies."

A question and answer period followed the address by Miller and Miller began the campaign by pledging $10 of his salary per month for one year toward the building fund.

BPW Meeting Monday

Monday night at the home of Mr. Milton Barry, the Business Professional Women's Club will elect new officers for the coming year. This will be a business meeting and all members are urged to attend.

National Fiber Growing Program
Sought By RDB Fiber Committee

Morton is gathering pertinent information that will assist Congressman Paul Rogers in making a case for the growing and processing of kenaf in the United States. (The Herald, Apr. 18).

Attending were Dr. R. V. Allison, Robert Bobo, Don Fisher, John Randolph, Charles Seale, Dr. Thomas Summers, Morton, James Taylor and Fred Young.

It was concluded that a brochure would be developed outlining a three-year program of study on the problems of kenaf development. Principal phases of the program are expected to be seed, harvesting, netmatode and ribboning, washing and investigation of the spinning of kenaf.

The brochure is expected to be finished and ready for presentation to Congressman by the end of this week.

Our local institution has been completely reversed. Six months ago practically all appeal on the part of Savings Institution was on savings; now emphasis is placed on loans. This, in essence, means there is more money available for loans than there is attractive demand for it."

Corn Is Moving
Potatoes Coming

With celery production declining and bean harvesting over the peak, corn harvest in the Glades is commencing daily. Leaf harvesting, too, may be over the peak.

Corn movement alone in the first three days of the week was 139 carlot equivalents. Prices ranged $3 to $3.25. As the acreage of corn is expected to be harvested, potato harvest is expected next week.

Daily average of carlot equivalents of leaf and truck over the week was 186.

Station Study
Planned On Water Table

A new project at Everglades Experiment Station has begun to study the water table problem. According to Dalton S. Harrison, Assistant Agriculture Engineer at the station, the project is to determine what the water table is doing with water table depths of 14, 22 and 30 inches, Harrison said.

Working on the project with Harrison will be H. E. Ray, H. A. Weaver, N. L. Chin, H. W. Bunn, R. E. Orenigley, E. D. Harris, Jr., F. E. Van Nostrand and C. C. Seale.

The object is to study drainage and irrigation requirements; physical, chemical and biological characteristics of organic soils; and to study the effect of water table and crop growth; weed ecology and control; and other factors related to depth to water table.

Harrison pointed out that the project is to determine what the water table has on the crops and which specific water table gives the highest yield.

BG Memorial Sets
Hospital Week
Observance Days

National Hospital Week will be observed May 11-17 throughout the nation. Belle Glade Memorial Hospital will join in the observance in highlighting this year's theme, "Careers That Count."

In a statement released this week, Miller said, "Hospital employment is one of the largest proportions that it is now ranked as the fifth largest industry in the United States."

The National Hospital Week is proud that the National Hospital Week, this year, does consider careers. The Hospital Board is interested in obtaining in the future, personnel who are trained for jobs becoming available at the hospital. This is evidenced by the newly created office of Chief Engineer at the hospital.

"The Hospital Auxiliary has undertaken the creation of the Gray Ladies Society in which the hospital will be selflessly and voluntarily, their time and efforts in behalf of the hospital."

WELL, NOT QUITE! The artist's sketch above was the architect's original drawing when the Belle Glade swimming pools were little more than ideas. Latest boost for reality was the approval of the city's FRPL franchise rebate to recreational facilities. Funds to be used are being used to pay off a $200,000 bond issue which made the construction of the pools possible.

Construction Is Still Going Up

New home construction in May amounted to $45,000, according to Belle Glade Building Inspector W. L. Cunningham.

Total valuation on the report for May was $403,739.

Largest single item was the $339,339 permit for additions to Lake Shore High School. This was the first four months of 1958 to an increase of $458,363.00 over the same period in 1957.

Ninety-two permits have been issued this year as compared to 107 last year.

New homes were listed for Bennett and Walker, 300 NW 14th St., $14,000; W. C. Gamble, 654 SE 6th St., $9,000; and A. B. DeKruze, 216 NW Ave. D, $22,000.

Municipal additions, the wading pools for both swimming pools were elected at $12,500.

Additional mail service will be available for the entire Glades area Saturday, according to information received last week from the district transportation manager, said George P. Farnall this week.

Effective May 3, closing-out time for mail for all points will be as follows: 9:45 a. m. daily; 6:30 p. m. daily; except Sunday; mail connections for all points in the western part of the state and south of Wildwood will be made for mail accumulated after 10 a. m. will be dispatched daily except Sunday at 1 p. m. via Cleveland.

Closing-out time for this dispatch will be 12:45 p. m. Postmaster Farnall has this additional service as a boon to this area. He emphasized that mail connections will not be altered by the later leaving time of the mail from this area, but for slower service to the west coast of Florida and onward to the western states, mail should be deposited in the post office by 9:45 p. m.

Effective Saturday an additional collection service from all points to the approximate 100 at the western end of the state and Smathers and Congressmen Rogers are expected to be there, with Senator Gore as guest speaker.

After 15 Years...

POOLS OPEN TOMORROW

At 1 p. m. tomorrow, a good number of Belle Glade officials and citizens will gather on N. W. Ave. 7, near the high school football field to dedicate and formally open one of the city's swimming pools. Similar ceremonies will be held at Lake Shore park for the second structure.

Manufacturing reality from an idea took 15 years in this instance. The names of those who spent, effort, money and a few years of their lives are too numerous to list in a full page of print.

Meeting after meeting, session after session and plan upon plan passed into history before the work of many resulted in concrete structures you'll see Saturday.

As near as anybody can remember many people wanted a swimming pool for the city as far back as the early 40's when Belle Glade ceased to be a settlement and became a town. Principally led by Ray Whitlock and W. S. (Buster) Ingram, the movement sprang up during a Belle Glade Lions Club meeting. Whitlock recalled that he and Ingram mentioned it so much, that when either of them stood up in a meeting, invariably someone shouted, "Sit down, swimming pool! We want something we can handle!"

Throughout 1943-45 Whitlock and Ingram discussed it more, the Lions Club and others joined them and by late '45, the late Mayor, Cecil A. Ingram, appointed a committee to study recreation, specifically a swimming pool.

The Lions auctioned a car shortly after the war and made $1,000 or so which was the beginning of the Swimming Pool Fund.

Civic leaders, the city council, chamber of commerce, practically every club and organization, the merchants joined the tourage marching toward a pool. Following is a chronological chart of some of the more important steps which led to the pools:

May 1946: City park chosen as site for pool to cost about $25,000, measuring 50 by 100 feet, wading pools 20 by 50 feet, 1946-47: City Manager Henry Earwood said State Board of Health visited to set up requirements.

1948: Earwood, as Lions Club president, suggests and creates cattle project under C. A. Moore, five-year operation. Funded with borrowed $100. Club members did the work of caring for the cattle, with help from other interests.

Divine Guidance Partners Up With Education, Integrity and Worn Shoes

A man, small in stature, but big in thoughts came to Belle Glade last week on a visit. This visitor has demonstrated the ability to convert his thoughts into practical results. He says "It's Divine Guidance and prayer."

Dr. Laurence C. Jones, the "little professor of Piney Woods" Mississippi vows with conviction that "Divine Guidance" is the answer, and he very convincingly lays the foundation and builds each corner in the walls of logic with a "Do you see any other explanation?"

"Why would any young man just out of college, with no job and no money refuse very attractive offers of jobs as principal of the largest negro high school?" "Before I graduated from Iowa, I had heard of the desire of folks in the Piney Woods of south and central Mississippi for good churches and opportunities for education, and I headed for that country. What the seemed aimless wandering with unreasonable inclination to refuse financial reward for a hard-earned education, fits perfectly in the plan of Divine Guidance."

"My first pupil 'just happened' as a casual passer-by while I sat under and old tree. He returned to me a leaflet with a quizzy look. Why don't you read it, I asked. Well, uh, you see I saw bound out the man to who I bound out send me to school. Well son, if you will be here the same time tomorrow I'll teach you to read and figure, I told him."

"Soon, other children joined the group under the tree and a heavy summer rain caused us to chase sheep from a log cabin nearby to get out of the rain. This was the beginning of a log cabin on top of a knoll has now grown to a school over 100 years from seven years ago and forty-some-odd children in Mississippi and two foreign countries."

This school of practical education teaches good work habits, sanitation, diversified farming, how to cook, can and sew, and is a 'learn while you work' effort. A high school education is given with special emphasis recently on a department to train teachers.

Dr. Jones has turned his own college degree from Iowa, which was gained when negroes had much less opportunity for education than now, into a hard-earned education, and is teaching pattern for his race.

One of Dr. Jones' first pupils put his cooking abilities to work on one of the Great Lakes freighters, along with his wife, and in a Piney Woods product. One of the employees of the factory read it, I asked. Well, uh, you see I saw bound out the man to who I bound out send me to school. Well son, if you will be here the same time tomorrow I'll teach you to read and figure, I told him."

That Weekly newspaper circulation is increasing throughout the nation!

REASONS?

That more and more folks want elbow room and are getting to the suburbs.

The Local Newspaper carries stories of what you and I do, where we went and as much of what is said as is advisable!

That decisions on buying are made in the home and are influenced by advertising - radio, television, magazines and newspaper.

The lasting impressions whether they are heard, seen or leisurely read are the important ones! Where do these lasting impressions come from? The weekly news paper is less RED and more READ, and remembered because it is leisurely and searchingly read.

Work On Bunker Silos Continues At Everglades Experiment Station

John W. Randolph, assistant engineer at Everglades Experiment Station, will assume the duties of D. S. Harrison with regard to certain research phases of the silage program now underway.

Harrison leaves the work to begin a water table study. (See page one story.) Harrison told The Herald this week that the silage program is progressing well with regard to the plastic covers being tested on bunker-type silos.

Dr. Robert Allen, in charge of the program, said that with proper use of plastic covers, almost all spoilage could be prevented.

Under the program now, Dr. Allen commented, he would work with the crops for silage up to the time for harvest at which time Randolph's work will overlap as they take up harvesting and ensilage problems.

The animal husbandry staff will handle the feed trials and work the silage feedings into their other feed trial schedules.

Dr. Allen hopes that specific means will soon be at hand to recommend adequate winter feeding programs to Glades ranchers to prevent such a pinch as was experienced during the early part of this year among Palm Beach County cattlemen.

Special machinery and silage additives are still being tested to develop the highest possible potential for ranch use.

The student whose names appear on this list have an overall point average of 3 out of a possible 4. Bamford is a sophomore and is taking chemical engineering.

Custard Apple Days

By LAWRENCE E. (Okeelanta) WILL

Democrat River

A while ago I started out to tell you about the old dead rivers of Lake Okechobee, but got so roused on about thin stills and such, and never did get around to Democrat, the most important river of them all.

Nobody has ever before tried to catalog these old streams, and very few can be found indicated on any map, however, with the aid of a few old timers and faint indications on an old aerial map, it has been possible to trace them with considerable accuracy, and this is the fact that due to the operations of agriculture, which favors drainage ditches of geometric straightness and land of corresponding levelness, to find the actual beds of these streams would be almost impossible.

With the exception of three-pronged Pelican River in Pahokee, these rivers have been almost completely obliterated. And so, in fact, have been such large bodies of water as Chanoy Bay, Pelican Lake, and a large portion of Pelican Bay back of Bacom's Point, which, itself, is now nothing but a name.

The dead rivers on the lake's east side have been discussed, so let's look at the south shore, beginning one mile west of Hendry County line. Here ran south past Hooker's Point, seven or eight miles to Blue Mound, and reputedly clear into Devil's Garden. This stream was the only one which had a shell deposit in its bed.

There seems to have been no other until we get to Lake Harbor, and this must have been a big one. As a part of his plan to lower the level of the lake, Hamilton Diston, about 1889, attempted to dig a canal from the lake to Shark River. Conrad Menge, his superintendent, records that this canal followed Ritts Bay. Part of the canal was dug, but the state engineers continued on to Miami. A couple of miles from the lake where the river diverged eastward from the direction desired by Diston, it used to be possible to see a portion of the original river, which cut a huge gash through the swamp, apparently almost as wide as the 60 foot canal itself.

Half a mile east of Miami Canal a considerable stream ran through the swamps, and this was the canal we passed in the winter of 1913-14. In coming up the canal we passed the only buildings in South Bay, the tar paper shacks of two batch-chasers, a Hollander, VanNess, on one side, and white bearded Chas. on the other.

We followed the wooded shore northeast for a quarter mile to the river's mouth, then between green walls of custard apples, cypress and popash, as the bonnet bordered estuary narrowed and divided. Between the forks and a good foot above the water, was a half acre clearing overgrown with cane bushes. The previous and unknown settler had left a tiny shack and a dock, the latter now breast high as one stood in a boat, which indicated the lowering of the river in the preceding year.

It was in this clearing, while we were preparing potato seed, that a wildcat ventured from the elders, regarded us curiously for a minute or two, then trotted across to the water and disappeared. He probably had never seen a man before in his life. The right hand branch of the river, then clogged by water lettuce, vine and other growth, was rather deep, and swung southward, crossing the present highway in the center of the sugar company's South Bay labor camp and continued onward into the sawgrass.

Between Menge's and the Hillsboro Canal were two or three inconsequential streams, including one named for Sam Cooper of Okeelanta, who built a shack there, but which he called Hidden River from the fact that it was so well screened from the lake.

And so we get to Democrat, once part of the Seminole's water route to Miami, but now completely expunged and obliterated. Mrs. Della Altman recalls that in 1911 she accompanied her husband and his brother on a gator hunting expedition here. They made camp on the Indian Mound and hunted snake backs in the North Fork. As she recalls it, the stream was very deep to 20 to 30 feet wide, narrowing as one left the lake. Its steep, verticle banks, higher than the adjacent land, were bordered and overhung for miles with custard apple trees, studded with gorgeous air plants and covered with moonvines, a most fascinating vista.

Democrat began up near Belle Glade's present city dump, when that was lake bottom. Flowing southeast, paralleled to the Hillsboro Canal, it divided at the Indian Mounds, one branch flowing between the Shell Mound and the Mud or Burial Mound, and Southward back of Joe Freedlund's home, through Shirley's Concrete plant and then to Vinegar Bend on state road 80. Crossing to the east side of the road running south from this bend, it continued past Bolles Canal. This portion may still be seen when the farm land is flooded.

It was in 1912 that A. Q. (Med) Howell traced this south fork to its end. From the Mounds it wound through the dense custard apples for nearly two miles, then the trees abruptly ended and the sawgrass began, although the stream continued among beds of elders and willows, branching off into runs until at last it completely disappeared. On this fork he found some of the biggest alligators he had ever seen. It was also on this fork that a "gator hunter, Joe Riles, weather the hurricane of 1916, and after the blow discovered to his surprise that he could see the open lake. Apparently a twister, not unusual in connection with such a storm, had ripped a swath through the custard apples.

The main, or North Fork of Democrat passed the Mounds about at Avenue F, flowed east through Belle Glade and crossed the canal between 2nd and 3rd Streets, continued east, and leaving the custard apple belt, crossed Highway 80 between Six and Nine Mile Bends. Curving south, it again crossed the site of the canal a couple of miles from Six Mile Bend and then about four miles west of the Brown Farm flowed into that ancient string of lakes known as Brooker's Run.

This was a series of long, narrow and deep lakes from three to four miles in length. The largest is said to have been a mile and a half long and three-quarters of a mile wide. These lakes were named for Henry Brooker, who had owned a store in Jupiter (and much later lumber yards in Canal Point and Pahokee) where he traded with Indians and grubbed glades hunters, but whose greatest pleasure was in hunting in the Everglades.

When he discovered these lakes he found the fairly teeming with alligators and declared that the country was a "gator slough," much farther north. After being joined by the overflow waters of Lake Okechobee, brought down by Democrat, there was formed a sort of Gulf Stream, a river flowing in the grassy water, clear of all aquatic growth and somewhat deeper than the surrounding land, and abounding in fish, otter and gators. This stream was capable of flowing a great volume of water, as attested by the fact that during times of high water, even after the canals had been dug, it flowed directly across the main canals.

Where Democrat crossed the Hillsboro, and where this

"Gulf Stream" crossed New River Canal 15 miles from Ft. Lauderdale, the current was sometimes powerful enough to swerve a loaded 60 foot freight boat off its course, as the writer well remembers. An old glade hunter, Johnnie Thorne, has said that from his home west of Ojus, near Miami, he could pole his glade boat via Brooker's Run to the Indian Mounds at Chosen.

That there was such an inland waterway, well known to Indians, there can be no doubt, but that it once flowed through the heart of Belle Glade when the latter was a vine-covered forest may be news to the Chambers of Commerce.

Heart Clinic Now Unit Of Hospital

The Heart Association Cardiac Clinic that in three years, has grown into an accredited clinic will now become a unit in the Good Samaritan Hospital starting Thursday morning, May 1st, according to Dr. Saul D. Rotter, a director of the clinic and chief of staff at the Hospital.

This is a program the Heart Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties has developed that we may all be proud of in relinquishing the supervision of the clinic the work of the Heart Association is again clearly demonstrated, for the Association has conducted the clinic as a pilot study over the past three years. Now, due to the excellent services rendered by the clinic and the demands upon it by the doctors it becomes apparent the clinic must become a part of the Good Samaritan program so as to be able to increase the work of the treatment and care of the cardiacs.

The clinic will operate each Thursday morning from 8 to 10 o'clock in room which have been made ready by the hospital.

The Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary will staff the clinic with the necessary clerical staff. All the clinic equipment is being furnished by the Heart Association as part of the Association's Community Service program.

Guard Units Are Among Best In Our Nation

No administrator at the pentagon will wreck the National Guard as long as Congress holds the money bags, Senator Spessard Holland of Florida said last Sunday.

Principal speaker at the 56th annual conference of the National Guard Officers Assn. of Florida, Holland said Washington's top brass has caused him to become concerned over the instability of the nation's entire reserve program.

Holland said he has served notice, as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, that he will not stand by and see the Guard reduced in strength.

E. S. Roberts Wins Episcopal Honors

The Hon. E. S. Roberts of Belle Glade was elected last Wednesday at the Episcopal diocesan convention in Orlando as a trustee of the diocese of South Florida.

Emphasizing the importance of the position, Father John Clarence Petrie, vicar of the Belle Glade congregation, says this action by diocesan convention recognizes the work Mr. Roberts has been doing for the Episcopal Church in Palm Beach County, not only as a leader in the Belle Glade church but also as the one most responsible for the founding of the new mission of the Good Shepherd in Jupiter.

prize sweet corn in Florida is protected by DITHANE M-22 (moneb)

"The successful growing of sweet corn in Florida would not have been possible without the help of DITHANE in controlling leaf blight."

You often hear this said among Florida sweet corn growers... and statistics on both the vast increase in acreage and the steadily increasing use of DITHANE fungicides in Florida back up what they say.

Now, new DITHANE M-22 (moneb) gives even better control of Helminthosporium leaf blight and Puccinia rust. The pay-off is higher yields of firm-wetted ears that last longer at top prices. And growers like the way DITHANE M-22 "babies" their crop... the way it helps the plants stay green and healthy.

DITHANE M-22 wettable powder is available in convenient package size from your dealer. He can also supply your needs for DITHANE M-22 dust. New residue tolerances now permit the use of DITHANE M-22 on sweet corn. See your Rohm & Haas fieldman for results of comparative tests now in progress. Use DITHANE M-22 this year. You're sure to like it.

BIBLE
...THOUGHT
By Elder Fred Robbins
Commit Thy way unto the Lord: Trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass. (Psalm 37:5)

Thanks be unto God, who giveth us the victory, our faith remains. A general view of the field of faith shows that the great fundamental facts remain undisturbed. God is God, and prayer, the Bible is the inspired word of the spirit of God, Jesus is the Son of God. The Christ is the Saviour of a sinful world. "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Entering into prayer, the fear of losing faith increases our estimate of its everlasting value. The faith of our fathers stands secure.

The testimony of unbalanced minds to the sonship of Christ, did not defeat the Saviour in His day, and they cannot do so now. The mistakes, errors and the superstitions of the extremists and deceivers have not made more than a ripple in the current of Christian history. The tide comes always back. The love of the holy Bible always returns.

The spirit of the Christian religion is a necessity to human progress and happiness. The world needs it. It may come slowly, but nevertheless it will surely come. Prayer is as necessary to the spirit of man as breath to his body. The seeker after God will surely find Him when he seeks with sincere heart, so try this matter and testify to its effectiveness.

Right is right, since God is God. And right the day will win. To doubt would be unloyalty. To fault would be sin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I will make my home a place of prayer.
J. W. Brannock, Merchant, Kentucky

The Book

Several years ago one of the many quick programs on Television caused a minor interest in Bible study. For a time people in stores and factories as well as at home were seen with Bibles open whenever they had a few moments leisure, but it did not seem to last. Perhaps it did not go deep enough. On the other hand, perhaps it went deeper than we know. The simple and even the profound things of this world are sometimes used of God. Who knows how many were led to a greater appreciation of the Word by this television program?

Some of these questions were asked on T. V. Can you answer them?

1. Who were Job's comforters?
2. On what road did Saul see a great Light which blinded him?
3. Name the three daughters of Job's latter years.
4. What was the handwriting on the wall?
5. Jesus was a direct descendant of which one of Jacob's sons?
6. Name the king who prayed for wisdom rather than wealth.
7. Name Jesus' disciples (the original twelve).
8. Name the gospels.
9. What does the word Gospel mean?
10. In the 12th chapter of Judges we find that 42 thou and Ephraimites were by his generosity and his time and efforts in presenting programs for clubs and organizations through the years in addition to his church work.

Good advice:
Don't take candy from a stranger

One bit of parental advice that continues unchanged from one generation to another is: Don't take candy from a stranger. Yet some adults will purchase medicinal preparations, notably vitamin products, from house-to-house salesmen even though their health is involved. There are many different vitamins, each with its special function within the body. It is wise to let your physician determine what vitamin or vitamins your health requires. Your doctor is the only one qualified to prescribe for you. Our supply of vitamins is complete and every product bears a nationally known name in the critical pharmaceutical field.

OUR BELLE GLADE SWIMMING POOLS ARE A REALITY

MUNICIPAL POOL

POOL

Lake Shore Park

COMPLETED RECENTLY at a cost of more than $98,100, the municipal pool and bath house is built with both Olympic and AAU swimming pool dimensions. The wading pools (not shown) measure 9 by 29 feet with water graduating from 12 to 18 inches. A concession stand and store room support the smaller pool. Measuring 42 by 75 feet there are six lanes each in two directions for Olympic and AAU swimmers if the opportunity arises. The larger pool graduates from 3 to 11 feet with both a 3-foot and 11-foot diving board; holds 221,000 gallons of water when filled.

MODERN in every respect is Lake Shore pool which measures 44 by 75 feet with a duplicate wading pool for small tots. The area near the wading pool provides ample space for watching parents on the spacious sundeck, surrounded by fence for protection. Slightly smaller than the municipal pool, Lake Shore pool holds 187,000 gallons of water when filled. Styled with a 3 and 11-foot board, the pool and modern bath house cost over $78,000 to build. The pool is located across from Lake Shore High School at 553 S. W. 15th Street.

Counselor Discusses

What Role Does A Movie Play In Encouraging Juvenile Delinquency

By GENE DUNCAN
Assistant Juvenile Counselor

The question of the effect of movies upon children and the role of movies in encouraging delinquent behavior has often been asked. Today I shall attempt to answer that question.

Two men, Blumer and Hauser, in their book The Movies, Delinquency, and Crime, summarize an intensive study conducted on delinquent and non-delinquent children.

The validity and reliability of this study can be questioned when we realize the heavy reliance placed on the statements of the children, thus making the study more subjective than we would like.

This study does, however, provide a limited insight into certain groups of children, notably delinquent children, but believe to have been the effects of motion pictures upon them.

Of 368 male delinquents interviewed, only 10 percent believed that their delinquent activities could be directly attributed to motion pictures.

The fact that this percentage is so low may be regarded as indicative of the limited part that motion pictures play in directly inciting children to crime.

The general conclusion reached in this phase of the investigation is the widely accepted belief that only delinquency-prone and predisposed children are motivated to delinquency by such means.

Blumer and Hauser suggest in their conclusion that the impression of a film will make and its capacity to incite to action is a function of the total personality structure at a given time.

With regard to the motion picture as an instructional tool for children delinquent or strongly predisposed to that direction, the study done by Blumer and Hauser shows that two men are far more specific.

For example, 28 percent of the delinquents indicated that the movies had taught them techniques of stealing. 21 percent claimed they had obtained knowledge of how to deceive the police, and 45 percent suggested that they were shown ways of obtaining money by the plots of pictures they had seen.

Jr. Garden Clubbers

Tour Tropical Garden

The fifth Grade Junior Garden Club, sponsored by the Belle Glade Garden Club, were taken on a tour of the Everglades Tropical Gardens near Clewiston Tuesday afternoon.

Names and origin of many tropical birds and plants were learned by the group. Ice Cream Cakes were served on the grounds by the senior club members chaperoning. Mrs. Herbert Beck, Mrs. Victor Mulberg, Mrs. Louise Warner.

Enjoying the outing were junior members, Sharon Amodeo, Farrell Kaufman, Fette Parish, Edna Marie Ely, Bobby Farmer, Bonnie Rayburn, Pat Fishler, Lee Ann Berryhill, Sherry Hill, Guy Hand, Sandra Ruby, Susan Wierceno, Marilyn Kelting, Joyce Daddon and Darlene Dupre. The tour completed the Junior Garden Club activities for the season. Other guests were Mrs. Hazel Reynolds and three children of Bartow.

Bolita Raid Nets Three Offenders

Armed with a search warrant Deputy Sheriff Bobby Newman and Belle Glade police successfully carried out a raid on a suspected bolita house at Kruse's Quarters on SR 15 last Friday night.

Newman said reports had been received that John Dukes was selling bolita tickets at the quarters. Before the raid, a Belle Glade policeman entered the building in plain clothes and purchased some tickets.

Subsequently the other officers entered the house and apprehended Dukes, known as "Boots", and two Negro women. Dukes, who now faces his second bolita offense in the past two years, was placed under $5,000 bond charged with operating a bolita house.

Lizzie Dukes, his wife, and Beale Hicks were placed under $1,000 bond each and charged with violation of the gambling laws.

Jaycee Election May 8

President George Bashley, Belle Glade Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced that the annual election of club officers will be held at the annual country club May 8, and all club members are urged to be present at this important meeting.

Low yields in crop beans in Florida offset an increase in acreage for that crop while cabbage yields were below normal. Spring early yields in Florida were expected to be the lowest since 1948 and sweet corn yields are below average for the spring.

Safety Was Theme Of Club Scouts For April

The theme for April was on Safety. Den 5 members gave a skit on "Bicycle Safety." Plans for the Pack meeting to be held May 23 were discussed and Cubmaster Hollingsworth urged all cubs to work hard and be ready for awards at the last meeting until September.

Cubs were also told by the leader to plan to exhibit projects during the month of June during the scout year so that their parents and friends may see what they have accomplished in this pack meeting.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. O'Neal Walker's Den of South Bay.

Spring Crop In FCD Expected Below Last Year

Spring vegetable production is expected to be below last year's yield in Florida and southern Florida as well as throughout the United States, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service Report of the USDA, abstracted by the Central Florida Flood Control District.

Indicated production from forecasts now available for Florida and the United States as a whole is expected to be four percent less than last year and three percent below average. Unfavorable weather lowered yields and prevented planting of considerable acreage for a large measure of the reduction.

Cucumbers and tomatoes are the only spring crops for which a considerable increase over last year is indicated. Average cucumber acreage in Florida is at 11,500 acres this year compared to 10,200 acres last year. The crop in Flood Control District Counties is making fair progress.

Florida tomato acreage this year will total 22,000 acres compared to 17,000 last year, however this 32 percent increase has been nullified by poor yield.

In Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District areas prospects for the spring harvest beginning in the Pompano and Fort Myers-Immokalee areas are below average for the spring.

The crop is behind schedule in the rival growing areas of Texas. Florida tomato acreage this year will total 22,000 acres compared to 17,000 last year, however this 32 percent increase has been nullified by poor yield.

Low yields in crop beans in Florida offset an increase in acreage for that crop while cabbage yields were below normal. Spring early yields in Florida were expected to be the lowest since 1948 and sweet corn yields are below average for the spring.

Everybody should know the first place to shop is at the local community stores! Every neighborhood merchant desires the chance to fill the shopping needs of his neighbors. It helps build up the community. It brings VALUES UP and PRICES DOWN.

When you shop in your own area, the advantages are many... convenience... time saved... and friendships established. In time, the increased demands bring additional trades and shopping facilities and with it lower operating costs... which result in savings to the consumer's purse. Quantity shopping always demands lower prices, and lower costs bring about values for the consumer.

Belle Glade Marks Law Day U. S. A.

LAW DAY U. S. A. is proclaimed by Belle Glade Mayor William Evans (seated) as a quartet of Belle Glade lawyers observe the signing of the proclamation declaration May 1 as the date for the official observance. First of its kind ever held, the special day was held to focus public attention on the important part that law has played in America's growth and achievement. Seen (l-r) at the ceremony are Claude Jones, Herbert Beck, Edward Allen and Robert Mathews.

"Individual freedom under law is the birthright of all American laws and courts exist to protect every citizen, in his person and property, and in the individual rights and privileges he enjoys under our federal and state constitutions."

So begins the proclamation signed by Belle Glade Mayor William Evans in observance of Law Day U. S. A., May 1. This step locally is the second such move to counter the Red buildup of propaganda which is climaxed by a celebration in Moscow's Red Square on May 1. Everglades American Legion Post 29 Commander W. H. McCarty has already called on patriotic Americans to discredit the Communists crusade of May 1. (The Herald, Apr. 29)

Grades 1-12 Enter School's Annual Arts Exhibit

The annual arts and crafts exhibit in various divisions of elementary and high school was held Tuesday afternoon at the high school auditorium with Mrs. Margaret Earwood and Raymond Payne in charge.

Out-of-town judges picked winners in various divisions of creative art in fine and industrial arts. The impressive display of individual work by room and grade completely filled the auditorium and stage areas.

Included in the entries were crayon drawings, sketches with pencil and ink, posters, designs with beans and ceramics and plaster sculpture objects.

Scenes, people and abstract designs and motifs were shown. Craft work featured excellent leatherwork, carvings, electrical projects, unusual lamps, cabinet work and bookends as well as gun racks and individualistic tables and shelves.

Judges were Mrs. Frances Otto, Lake Worth art instructor, Miss Barbara Bailey, Palm Beach High School art instructor, or Jewel Volkoff, elementary teacher at Riviera School and art instructor.

Prize winning entries will be taken to Norton Art Galleries for the American Class room Educational Association art show May 11-18, Mrs. Earwood said.

Mechanical problems will not permit the listing of winners in this week's paper; however, a complete list of the winners will be included in next week's issue.

Land Bank Cuts Interest Rates To 5 1/2 Per Cent

The Federal Land Bank of Columbia has lowered its interest rate to five and one-half percent on all loans on and after April 17, according to notice received from Rufus R. Clarke, president of the bank, by George H. Wedgworth, Director of the Miami Farm Loan Association.

This is the second time in more than 40 years of providing farmers with long-term loans that the Federal Land Bank of Columbia has voluntarily lowered the interest rate on loans already on its books.

Farmers of Dade, Palm Beach, Broward, Collier and Monroe counties who have already made applications for loans at the six percent rate in effect for several months will receive the benefit of the lower rate, Wedgworth stated.

At the same time the bank also voluntarily lowered the interest rate on all outstanding loans which carry a rate of interest in excess of five and one-half percent retroactive to the closing dates of such loans.

This means that even though farmers in Florida, Georgia and the two Carolinas during the recent tight money period had already obtained several million dollars in loans at a higher rate, they will pay only the five and one-half percent rate during the entire life of their loans.

The farm loan associations and the Federal Land Banks are co-operatively owned by the farmers they serve. Loans funds are obtained from the sale of Federal Land Bank Bonds to the investing public. This voluntary reduction in interest rate is in line with our policy of jassing on to our farmer owners — borrowers any savings possible through lower bond interest rates," Wedgworth said.

High Lights Of Junior 4-H Club

This has been one of the most interesting months this year in 4-H work. The regular meeting was held last Wednesday in the Home, E. Dept. of Belle Glade High School. Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, assistant Home Demonstration agent and Mrs. Richard Murray, 4-H leader met with the group.

Mrs. Pierce talked about future events on the 4-H calendar for May 3 - County 4-H council meeting at the Mounts building on Military Trail, West Palm Beach; May 24 County 4-H Achievement Day at the same place; June 8-14 4-H short courses in Tallahassee.

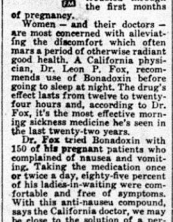

The girls are chosen for the short courses in Tallahassee with all expenses paid in a competition manner. Florence McIrdie represents the local club last year.

Candidates for the trip are chosen from these points: Must be 14 years of age; Make a 4-H uniform; Number of projects completed; Number of meetings attended; number of committees served on; number of county meetings attended.

On July 21-26, 4-H Camp at Camp Cloverleaf at Lake Placid, Fla. To attend a girl must have completed three projects. This will be a co-ed camp for the first time this year.

At a recent meeting Mrs. Alva Warden, state Home Demonstration Agent met with the Jr. High club and gave pointers on how to keep records and had each girl write a letter telling why they liked 4-H. Some of the quotes from the letters were: "In my food and nutrition project, I have learned to cook many things and learned to like more foods. It has helped me to be a better citizen and to understand and know other people and how better to care for young children. In 4-H one learns to have a responsibility that might not have been acquired elsewhere." "We have the opportunity to learn something different as there are 24 projects for boys and girls." "Get a chance to see accomplishments of others at county and state fairs and camping experience for only $7 per week."

Guests were Janet Herring and her mother, a 4-H leader of Canal Point and Mrs. LePento, HDS assistant. Ann Murray is acting reporter, for the 4-H Junior High group.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE
Ladies-In-Waiting
One out of every three women suffers from nausea or acute stomach upset during the early months of pregnancy, and one really knows why. And, though "morning sickness" occurs as frequently in Europe as in America, it is unknown in the Middle-East.

Some doctors believe the rapid, intense changes in the glandular system may be a cause of this pregnancy upset. Nutritional needs, vitamin imbalances and emotions have also been implicated. But so far, no one has discovered why some women are affected, while others still untroubled through the first months of pregnancy.

Women — and their doctors — are most concerned with alleviating the discomfort which often means a period of otherwise radiant good health. California physician, Dr. Leon P. Fox, recommends use of Bonadonin before going to sleep at night. The drug's effect lasts from twelve to twenty-four hours and, according to Dr. Fox, it's the most effective morning sickness medicine he's seen in the last twenty-two years.

150 of his pregnant patients who complained of nausea and vomiting. Taking the medication once or twice a day, eighty-five percent of his ladies-in-waiting were comfortable and free of symptoms. With this anti-nausea compound, says the California doctor, we may be close to the solution of a perplexing problem in obstetrics.

A sundial that is believed to be unique is at Coral Castle of Florida, 25 miles south of Miami on U. S. 1. It is bowl-shaped, the hours are marked by cross-lines. It is amazingly accurate.

If you can't take a curve on the street, while walking, without getting shook up, you'd certainly better watch trying to round one fast in a car.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 161 of South Bay met at the Legion hall Mon. evening with Mrs. Sam Henderson, acting president presiding.

A discussion on the dances or students held every Friday evening, brought out the fact that there was some misunderstanding as to who was eligible. An explanation revealed that students in the 9th through 12th grades in South Bay, Bean City and Lake Harbor may attend as well as any students in these grades, whose parents are members of the Legion Auxiliary and "not, no matter where they live. Miss Domina Mistilli with the assistance of a member of the Legion or Auxiliary instructs the dancing. The one in charge is responsible for the children and therefore they are to sign when they come in to go out. Parents are urged to have their children cooperate. The children enjoy the recreation, cookies, hot dogs and soft drinks are on sale.

The unit voted to hold a rummage sale Friday afternoon. Everyone is asked to donate articles of clothing that can be used. The proceeds from the rummage sale is used to carry on the auxiliary work.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

My friend Joe Sutherland, public relations consultant of the Leaudale, is viewing the so-called recession with genuine alarm. He thinks it is a money and will get out of hand and develop into a boom if we don't mend our ways.

He got that way by watching a gang of workmen busy as beavers building a brand new luxury apartment on the $100,000,000 Galt Ocean Mile on the Atlantic Ocean, the Edgewater Arms, being built by the Radice Construction Corporation.

This 16 story structure will be one of the tallest and most imposing on the fabulous Gold Coast with 88 cooperative luxury apartments and seven penthouses, one of which has already been sold for $125,000.

Joe sees the situation like this. He is convinced that the 12,000,000 Americans, weary from toting their $500,000,000,000 in savings to and from banks and headlines, need a better place from which to view the recession and the new Edgewater Arms affords them this opportunity.

He says that long lines of peacocks drive by every day, bumper to bumper, down the park in the Lincoln and Cadillac to gaze on the construction work, which is evidence of how tough things are. Truly he sighs, "Hard times stalk this land of silk and money."

Similar depression and despair is visible at many other points in the state where huge factories and industrial plants are under construction, new homes are built, retail sales continue to climb and now that gentleness is getting straightened out the tourist tide is coming in again with out-of-state cars flooding our highways, tourist camps and motels filling up and help wanted listings increasing in our metropolitan newspapers.

If the politicians would quit howling and helping "recession" and "depression" we could get this bug-a-boo out of our mind and get back to work. Of course, the boys need something to blame on somebody and scare the voters so they have nooked on to this recession gang with joyful glee.

A nation can think and talk itself into a slump just as an individual can think and talk himself into a hospital. You can yell "fire" in a crowded theater and start a panic so let's quit telling Uncle Sam how sick he looks and start slapping him on the back and complimenting him on his vim, vigor and vitality.

Compared to John Bull, La-belle France, Mother India and a lot of other international characters, our boy is in pretty good shape. He has a trim waist line, a jaunty step and can take care of himself if we'll just maintain our confidence in the old boy and give him a helping hand instead of nagging him about his health.

I'm proud of the fact that Florida hasn't been doing too good whinpering about hard times. We have had a few setbacks but it hasn't got us down by a long shot, not when we can lead the nation in sales, build million dollar plants, skyscraper hotels and apartments and kick up our heels like we're doing.

Don't pay any attention to the calamity howlers Uncle, let the politicians rave and tear their hair and call each other names, it's just a lot of campaign howl. You are OK and don't let anybody tell you you're not!

How about taking Miss Florida out on the floor for the next dance. She's rarin' to go.
